CONSTRUCTION OF RURAL POWER LINE IN HANCOCK SOON TO BE STARTED

Ninety-Mile Unit to Include Hancock and Pearl River Counties—Dr. C. W. Fountain, President, Hancock Association, Plans to Stage Mammoth Celebration on Completion.

(Special to The Sea Coast Echo)
Jackson, Miss., Oct. 14.—With the contract to construct the Hancock-Pearl River rural power project to be let within a few days actual work on the 90-mile unit is expected to begin within the next two weeks, Director L. J. Folse of the State Planning Commission declared here this week.

Director Folse also revealed receipt of a telegram from Senator Pat Harrison's offices in Washington announcing that the Rural Electrification Administration had approved an allocation of $26,000 to add about 30 miles to the original project. The supplement will be constructed under a separate contract.

The bidding sessions here last week resulted in the selection of four low bidders as follows: Delta Construction Company, Clarksdale; L. M. Harvey, Pensacola, Fla.; Stuart C. Irby, Jackson, and John Ohm, Jr., Nashville, Tenn.; Taffel Electric Company, Nashville, will be awarded the contract to supply meters.

C. D. Blair, REA engineer sent here from Washington to check bids locally in order to eliminate necessity for sending bids to the capitol, was expected to announce the lowest bidder shortly. He was engaged this week in rechecking bids, an REA requirement, with assistance of A. R. Lewis, chief engineer of the State REA, and E. A. Bowman, resign engineer.

Dr. C. W. Fountain, Logtown, president of the Hancock Electric Power Association, plans to stage a mammoth celebration to mark the opening of the line when it is completed.

The unit will extend from the Mississippi Power substation at Picayune and serve farm families in the vicinity of Nicholson and Caesar, in Pearl River county, and Gainesville, Tigerville, Pearlport, Logtown, Lakeshore and Clermont Harbor, in Hancock county.

AGED BAY ST. LOUIS WOMAN VICTIM OF HIT AND RUN AUTO DRIVER

Mrs. Amelia Odom Found Unconscious on Side of Highway—Condition Undetermined.

Mrs. Amelia Odom, wife of Manuel Odom, was picked up on the highway Monday morning in an unconscious condition by passersby and taken to the local King's Daughters Hospital.

It was found, after medical examination, she was suffering from a deeply lacerated scalp and injured knee to say nothing of a severe shock of the system. She was unable to tell what happened but the conclusion is that she was struck by a hit and run driver during the early part of the night and left on the side of the road all night where she was found next morning.

Mrs. Odom, who is advanced in years, resides in Edwardsville, with her husband, the couple having no children.

The latest intelligence from the hospital is to the effect that "condition is undetermined." Mr. and Mrs. Odom are well known as long-time residents of the Jordan river section, residing at the same location for a long while and enjoy the attention and favor of a wide circle of acquaintances.

Well Drilled in Lamar County May Become Paying Oil Producer

Press information from Hattiesburg is to the effect that drilling continues at the Sun Oil Company's fifth deep test well in Lamar county.

The well is below 3000 feet. Progress has been slow on account of difficulty of getting wood to the boilers; and because of a breakdown in the water pumping system last week-end.

The well is being drilled by the Modisette Drilling Company of El Dorado, Ark.

Belief prevails that the present well may be developed into a producer. The fourth well, abandoned at 6538 feet late in August, penetrated more than 150 feet of sandstone and shale and was discovered in the first well last year.

79-YEAR-OLD GATOR SCARED OUT OF PEN; ON FORAGING RAID

Belle, the alligator at Browns' Vineyard, went out on an expedition escaping from her pen on Monday last and landed in the big artificial fish pond located on the premises.

She consumed about 6 green trout, 12 large perch, 4 spring frogs and 1 turtle. After tiring of seafood it was evident she was going in quest of chicken.

Mrs. Brown discovered the saurian in the fish pond and called the boys from the work on the highway department, who are constructing the new short cut in front of the vineyard, to help affect capture.

The boys lassoed her while making her way to the chicken run. Despite her 79-years she put up a terrific fight to escape the noose.

She finally was captured and put back in the pen where she will remain until things become more quiet. Belle couldn't take it.

The noise of tractors, etc., working on the highway was too much for possibly one of her years.

DR. GOWANLOCH OF LA. CONSERVATION, SPEAKS TO BAY CLUB

Addresses Members of Book of the Hour Club on Wild Life of the Gulf Coast Region.

Dr. James Nelson Gowanloch, chief biologist of the Louisiana department of conservation gave a most interesting talk on the Wild Life of the Gulf Coast region, Tuesday night at the Sea Gull, under the auspices of the Book of the Hour Club.

Dr. Gowanloch covered the field of bird and marine life of the coast in an accurate and understanding manner. His discussion included such rare birds as the ivory bill wood pecker, the whooping crane, and the blue goose, as well as the various species of crabs, shrimp and oysters found in coast waters.

His lecture was well attended. Dr. Wolfe has presented the library with a set of encyclopedias, and several mystery novels. A large number of National Geographic has been given the library by Mr. George E. Pitcher. Mrs. Boyd and the Beach Drug Store have also given the library some magazines.

'38 OLDSMOBILE ON DISPLAY AT HILLE'S GARAGE

Latest Auto Creation in Safety and Beauty On Exhibition to Public

Returning from Lansing Michigan, Ben Hille, local Oldsmobile salesman for local territory, drove back a '38 model of the Oldsmobile, a four-door sedan, that shows all improvements and car beauty the makers have created for 1938. The public is invited to visit and view the new cars.

With the presentation of its new models for 1938, Oldsmobile announces that the Automatic Safety Transmission—offered for the first time a few months ago as optional equipment on the Oldsmobile Eight—only—is now optional at extra cost on both the Six and Eight.

This announcement means that both Oldsmobile Six and Eight purchasers will be able to acquire the first really successful automatic gear changer—the greatest single driving aid ever offered the motoring public. It is a new kind of transmission which does away with the ordinary routine of gear shifting and yet gives the driver complete command of gear selection, and control and all-around performance.

The conventional gear shift lever is completely eliminated, leaving ample room for three adults in the front seat. Instead, a short, convenient hand lever control is located just under the wheel on the steering column.

NOTED CONVERT AND CAMPAIGNER SPEAKS IN BAY ST. LOUIS

National Campaigner for Christ Speaks to Semi-David Golstein, Catholic narians.

Last Thursday, October 7, David Goldstein of Boston, the well-known "convert from Marx to Christ," visited St. Augustine's Seminary. He was accompanied by his co-campaigner, Marius Risley, a young man who is making Catholic Action in the form of outdoor speaking his life work.

These two lay apostles, having just completed their series of daily open-air meetings in the Wheeling diocese, are now on a 1000-mile drive into New Orleans in their lecture broadcasting bus.

David Goldstein's work is done from his lecture bus. It is fitted with a modern amplifying system that enables the voices of the speakers and music to be heard by large audiences, whether in their homes throughout the neighborhood of the meeting, or seated in their parked cars. The bus is itself an advertisement of the religious and patriotic cause it represents. It is in Papal colors and is decorated with Crucifix and flags.

David Goldstein, "the Catholic Campaigner for Christ," and director of the nation-wide tour of open-air meetings has covered 66 dioceses in America in the past 20 years. He is held to be an ardent defender of religious truth and adherence to its requirements, as well as of loyalty to legitimately constituted civil authority; has attracted wide attention and received favorable notice whenever he has spoken.

In a demonstrated lecture, given at the Seminary, Thursday night, Mr. Goldstein, declared that the work done from his lecture bus may be relied upon to be always religiously Catholic and patriotically American. It is never anti-Protestant, anti-Jewish, nor anti-anything. It is an endeavor to present things Catholic in an understanding way and to answer all questions, be they friendly inquiries or hostile assertions, in a friendly spirit.

"The object of the tour of the open air meetings," Mr. Goldstein said, "is to be of a good-will nature. They are conducted to overcome misunderstandings, to win Protestants, Jews, and unbelievers to an unbiased investigation of the claim of the Catholic Church. They are also intended to stimulate the faith in the faithful and to bring fallen-away Catholics back to the Sacraments."

At the demonstration (given by Mr. Goldstein on the Seminary grounds were Brother William, President of St. Stanislaus College, and Brother Alexis, vice president. Mr. Goldstein left Friday morning for New Orleans, where he was to complete arrangements for the open-air meetings in that city and the surrounding towns.

WOMAN REPORTED KILLED IN AUTO WRECK NOT KNOWN

In Bay St. Louis as Reported From Birmingham By Associated Press.

An Associated Press report from Birmingham, Ala., dated Wednesday reports that Mrs. Emma Neely, 35 years old, of Bay St. Louis, Miss., was killed and her husband and a small child were seriously injured as their automobile plunged down an embankment seven miles south of Birmingham.

The press intelligence further says: State highway patrolmen said the husband, Lucian Neely, was driving. They began a search for the car after a filling station attendant called police headquarters to report a "car going from side to side on the highway" and the alarm was broadcast over the police radio.

Neely and his 2-year-old daughter, Mary Elizabeth, were taken to County hospital. A small son, Clarence, 8, was not hurt in the accident.

A diligent inquiry over the city and records failed to find any family by the name of Neely known in Bay St. Louis.

Clerk of the Courts and County Registrar A. G. Favre reports knowing no one by the name of Neely. City Commissioner W. L. Bourgeois also widely acquainted and familiar with city records, reported the same as Clerk Favre.

It is possible Neely was employed on some highway project in the county near Bay St. Louis, and his family had or were going to move here.

At the postoffice inquiry there also failed to reveal the identity of the crash victims.

Is my hearty wish on your Jubilee Day! Its graces be diamonded I earnestly pray, Complacently on your Lord must look down

As sixty bright diamonds He sets in your crown. The lustrous polish of labor well done Shows every bright stone as a miniature sun.

Jewels precious and rare that shall never grow dim— He sees in the lives you've directed to Him; He sees in the souls you have fitted for life

Prepared for its duties, its struggles, its strife, Diamonds more brilliant, more true in their sheen

Than ever were set in the crown of a queen. Years many and happy may you live to see Beyond the milestone of this glad Jubilee!

BIRTHDAY PROGRAM FOR STATE P. T. A. AT CENTRAL SCHOOL

Mrs. J. A. Evans Presided—Prof. Ingram Speaks—All Hallowe'en Party.

Monthly meeting of P. T. A. (Bay High) was held Tuesday afternoon 3:30 o'clock at Central School.

A most unusual program was rendered with Mrs. Jas. A. Evans in charge for the day. It was the birthday party of the Mississippi P. T. A. and as the members of the audience entered they were given a card with their birthday month and shown a section marked to correspond, this gave every the brotherly feeling.

Musical numbers rendered under supervision of Mrs. Carl Smith were enjoyed very much.

Each "month" section gave some building feature of the Mississippi P. T. A. and Mrs. C. C. McDonald gave the frivolous story in connection with all months joining in for more frivolity.

Mr. Ingram gave the faculty message which was an insight to individual student activity. All mothers were glad to feel that her child would be under the watchful eyes of a trained coach during his athletic activities.

It was decided to give a Hallowe'en dance in the gymnasium Hallowe'en night, with all the trimmings. Ghosts will be seen in unexpected places; fortune telling available and all the spooking lurking in dark corners. Beware! If you miss this evening of fun. Watch the posters and next week's Echo for further details as to orchestra, etc.

The meeting adjourned to the Home Economics room for lovely sight and delicious refreshments, served by hostesses.

This was a most interesting and enjoyable afternoon. Sorry if you missed it. Come next time.

RESIDENT VICTIM OF ATTACK

George Hammer Dies From Acute Indigestion At Home Wednesday Morning.

George Hammer, aged 46, residing in Nicholson avenue, Waveland, was the victim of acute indigestion at his home Wednesday morning and passed away at 2:30 o'clock. Not only was the news of the sudden passing of this excellent citizen unexpected but proved of widespread sorrow. He was widely known in New Orleans and in the Bay-Waveland section and identified with every interest calculated for the general welfare and betterment of community.

Mr. Hammer was the beloved husband of Camille Hart, father of George Jr., Richard A., and Dorothy M. Hammer, son of Amelia Albrecht and the late Antoine Hammer, brother of Edward P., Louis W., and Mrs. Emile Maltby.

The body was shipped to New Orleans and funeral took place Thursday morning from the Church of Our Lady of Good Counsel, Louisiana avenue; interment was in Greenwood Cemetery. Church ceremony included a requiem mass.

The passing away of George Hammer in the very zenith of life doubly saddens this visitation of death. Mr. Hammer was a most engaging personality; an ideal citizen and exemplary head of a family. A man of lofty principles. A devout member of the church and the embodiment of all that includes the attributes that go to make a useful life.

FED. ROADBUREAU WILL INVITE MR. AND MRS. MOTORIST TO SAY

In Matter of Mississippi Gulf Coast Controversy Over Double Beach Driveway.

An Associated Press intelligence conveys the information that the motorists and backseat driver will be able to tell the federal roads bureau what he or she thinks about the plan of Governor Hugh L. White of Mississippi to expand the scenic Mississippi coast highway into a double-lane concrete boulevard.

The bureau wants to know. It has announced it would seek ideas of motorists as to what steps can be taken to develop the national highway system of which the Old Spanish Trail transcontinental route which traverses the Mississippi coast is an important artery.

"We'll invite Mr. and Mrs. John Motorist and all their friends to offer suggestions," a bureau spokesman said.

"They will have a chance to see just what any highway program will cost and they can make up their minds whether they favor the necessary expenditure by their state to carry it out."

The bureau said it would first assemble data from the states and submit the official proposals to the road-traveling public.

Cook as associate justice of the state supreme court for the southern district.

SPEAKERS BEFORE ROTARY CLUB TELL OF WORK FOR CRIPPLES

Details Operation of Hospital For Unfortunates at Memphis—First Hand Story.

The Tri-States Association for Cripples, with headquarters at Memphis, Tenn., rendered a very interesting program at the regular meeting of the Rotary Club here Wednesday. The program was in charge of Rotarian L. H. Crowell, Gulfport club, vice-president of the association. He explained that the association for Cripples was formed and supported solely by Rotary clubs of Arkansas, Tennessee and Mississippi, for the purpose of giving relief free of charge to the suffering cripples of these states. He stated that the hospital admitted only those recommended by the home Rotary club, and that were past the age of fourteen. Mr. Crowell said, "I think there is no greater work to be done by a Rotary club, than the lifting of these indigent cripples from their beds, making it possible for them to walk and enjoy life as other normal people."

Mr. Crowell introduced Mr. D. E. Richardson, Secretary of the Association, who gave a brief account of what he termed the "Highlights" of the hospital for cripples at Memphis. He told of the building and the wonderful equipment, also pointed to the low cost of operation, which was estimated at $3,000 per month. The hospital is now accommodating 53 patients, with a top heavy waiting list. He presented Miss Ella Letort, of Biloxi, a recent patient of the hospital, who gave a "first hand story" of her experiences both before and after treatment at Memphis. She gave a very touching account of her unfortunate condition and remarkable recovery. She praised the hospital for the wonderful treatment accorded her, and expressed appreciation to the Rotarians for their assistance.

Although 53 Mrs. F. D. Roosevelt Has Only 21 Candles on Cake

Twenty-one candles decorated Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt's birthday cake at the White House even though it was her 53rd birthday anniversary.

The 21-candle limitation is a Roosevelt custom. The First Lady's gift from the President was a water proof wrist watch.

Why more than 21 candles on anyone's birthday cake?

TWO GREAT EXPOSITIONS.

TWO great expositions are promised for 1939. One in New York City and the other in San Francisco.

This will mean augmented business for the railroads—faithful and dependable servitors. Safest mode of transportation.

Both promise big. They will represent the trend of the country and the latest mode of doing and the last word in progress goes without saying.

It will be well worth while to visit both, located as they are—one in the very midst of all that is metropolitan and the gateway to the world of the West. The other, metropolitan and cosmopolitan as well, an entirely different world, and the gateway to the East. Educational in the fullest sense.

Expositions of former years have not paid in dollars and cents. They have proven deficient as an investment in dollars and cents.

On the other hand, as factors of further progress and civilization they have contributed vastly. One may not travel the world, but here the four corners of the earth converge.

However, the late Chicago Exposition paid handsomely from the mercenary view point, pulling the city and its many hotels in the famous loop well out of the red and rescuing business concerns that were on the verge of bankruptcy.

The San Diego Fair, with its permanent buildings of beauty and art and natural landscape settings also proved the wisdom of its promoters. And the Dallas Fair, too, comes a report, has scored to that point where there is an investment in money terms.

It is a pity that we of the South, especially New Orleans, cannot hold such expositions, to attract hundreds of thousands hither and view the beauty of the Southland, to enjoy our well-known hospitality. Enjoy the romance of the Old World, live the traditions of old and hear first hand the tales of a land of a thousand legends.

We know it is a great undertaking, assuming a liability of great burden and responsibility, and of vast finances. But it would be worth it and could be held all the year round, an advantage other places do not possess, as our own subtropical land.

In the meantime keep the New York and San Francisco expositions in mind. Try to visit both.

Opportunities present themselves to the person who turns them up.

RATS COST MONEY.

THE rat population of the United States is estimated at 123,000,000, and, according to the Department of Agriculture, they cause an estimated annual damage of $189,000,000.

Recent studies lead to the conclusion that the rat population has declined in the cities due to improved sanitation conditions, rat-proof construction, fewer horses, improvement in the packaging of foods and fewer waste food products. In the small towns and on farms, the rats seem to be holding their own. In fact, a rat-killing campaign in a Texas county, with a population of 35,000 yielded 153,720 rat tails in six weeks.

Rats, both brown and black, are believed to have reached this country with the ships that crossed the Atlantic. They are well entrenched in every state and, besides causing considerable economic loss, are often distinct threats to the health of a community.

The average man thinks he has to sign every petition that somebody sticks under his nose.

HERE COMES THE DUKE.

THE announcement that the Duke and Duchess of Windsor will soon visit the United States for a prolonged stay creates new problems for officials who must decide exactly the status of the former British king and his bride.

Socially ambitious dowagers all over the country will also be aflutter as they plan to demonstrate that they do not believe very strongly in the doctrines of democracy. The Duke will find, no doubt, that there are people here ready to fawn upon the erstwhile royal person and, more than likely, he will be disgusted at some of the spectacles presented before him.

That the former monarch plans to study American labor problems indicates a continued interest in the welfare of working people and may be a tip-off to his ambitions to carve a political career for himself as a citizen of the world.

Some of the nations, which boast of peace-like intentions, are spending fifty per cent of their ational income upon armaments.

WATCH OUT FOR THE GIMME BOYS.

THERE is considerable speculation over the deliberations and results of the forthcoming session of the Mississippi Legislature January, 1938. With five million dollars in the treasury the gimme boys are going to be heard from and out in hordes. It should be returned to the tax-payers by means of lower taxation—to the people from whom it was extorted by painless process.

Bay St. Louis and vicinity as place of residence has much to commend, but of the many features none the less are our excellent schools.

LOWER TAXES IN THE OFFING.

While The Echo is not authorized to so state, there is reason to believe there will be a drastic cut in taxes this year. The declaration will be forthcoming shortly and there will be much cause for rejoicing and general satisfaction.

Thoughtful and business-minded people will readily appreciate such reduction. It is they who will make possible this reduction and at the same time to continue the business of the public and for the public weal.

It would be nothing less but ingratitude to fail to realize that the men who constitute the organized bodies of administration have not only accomplished a great task but they have rendered a special service to the individual and to the taxpayers as a whole.

There is valid reason for advanced taxes of the past. We have created major improvements and approved of bonded obligations to defray the cost. Improvements have meant for stabilization and for better values. Our community has gone forward in line and time with other communities.

The cry of 'high taxes,' in hand with 'hard times,' is as old as creation. We hear of the good times of other days when taxes were "low." But even then the same cry existed. And who would wish to go back to the yesterdays? We hold no brief for those who have found it necessary to advance the demand for public monies. Their acts are well sustained by the fact and condition of today.

But we are inclined to grant a fair deal for every man. To render unto Caesar the things that are his. To give praise to whom praise is due. To be fair and square.

There is no better proof of the efficiency of administration than the fact obligations are discharged and a drastic cut in the ad valorem tax is in the offing.

MISSISSIPPI GULF COAST PECAN.

MISSISSIPPI Gulf Coast pecan crop is reported this season to be the largest in years. The yield is not only heavy but the quality and fullness of the nut is by far superior and will sustain the reputation of the Mississippi Gulf Coast pecan wherever known and sold.

The Mississippi Gulf Coast section is acknowledged the home of the larger and better pecans. Jackson county, in and around Pascagoula and Ocean Springs originated the large and paper shell variety. The Schley is one of the best known and others, including the Success have brought fame and fortune to this section.

Last year's crop was noted for its paucity. It appears to have been an off year. This year growers as well as buyers and sellers should reap handsomely and thus bring further fame and fortune to our own Coast.

Mississippi Coast pecans are shipped to all parts of the country, either in bulk, shelled or manufactured into candy.

The Kenney Pecan Orchard with its candy shop shipping the famous Southern Praline confection to all sections of the United States, has helped considerably to advertise Bay St. Louis. We must regard the Kenney Pecan Orchard and its candy in that fullest sense as an institution of inestimable value and indispensable as a medium of substantial publicity. It is one of our few but potent industries.

ALL ROADS LEAD TO JACKSON THIS WEEK.

JACKSON is the cynosure of all eyes this week.

The Mecca for all travelers. And well worthy is the reason. The State Fair is proving the best and largest yet. This statement is attested to by the fact there are more exhibits, more places of constructive interest and the attendance has exceeded all previous efforts.

Jackson has done itself proud and is deserving of all attending success.

Individual and combined effort, amply supported by every civic and other clubs have worked to the very man. Hence no surprise. This spirit of co-operation and of working for one's community and the commonwealth as well is worthy of emulation. Would that spirit prevailed at all time and in all places.

We have a splendid State, rich in resources and possibilities. Its history is rich in the history of its men and women. This heritage is imperishable. But it can better be served if we of today and the younger of tomorrow heed the precepts history teaches and that gives power to better and bigger things.

PLENTY FOR THE THANKSGIVING PRAYER.

BANNER crops are noted in the Louisiana-Mississippi sector.

Mississippi has, like the balance of South, the biggest cotton crop yet.

Louisiana reports sugar cane in excess of many years by the thousands of tons.

In both instances the yields are not only abundant but of super quality.

And in our section where we neither grow cotton nor cane the staple crop of pecans is reported plentiful.

All are staple crops of the particular sections from which they come. Aside from the crisis created by overproduction we must consider these as particular blessings and surely will come in for a goodly part of the Thanksgiving prayer this year.

Committee Chairmen Speak to Members Luncheon Club

The Club Assembly Program was put on by local Rotarians at their regular meeting Wednesday at Hotel Reed. Four Rotarians appeared on the program, each in the capacity of chairman of one of the four major committees of the Rotary Club.

The speakers were: Rev. A. J. Boyles, Chairman of International Service Committee; Jesse Gray, Chairman of Vocational Service Committee; Joe Scharff, Chairman of Community Service Committee; Rene de Montluzin, Chairman of Club Service Committee. Each speaker explained the purpose and function of his respective committee.

Rev. Boyles stated that International Service was a very important phase of Rotary work, since Rotary had spread to all of the civilized nations of the world and had joined the hands of the people of these countries in a common understanding. This he said, would add much toward the promotion of peace, good will, and understanding among all of the people.

Rotarian Jesse Gray pointed out the valuable work accomplished by the Vocational Service Committee, through the promotion of better understanding among men of different vocations in life. He quoted the second object of Rotary which places an obligation upon each individual Rotarian to do his part toward the uplifting of his vocation. He stressed the importance of ethical practices and fair methods of doing business.

Also the necessity of making every effort to understand the problems pertaining to the vocation of your fellowman. In conclusion he quoted "My Vocation" a very beautiful pledge, and is recognized now as the code of Ethics of Rotary International.

Rotarian Joe Scharff explained the duties of the different sub-committees under his major Committee of Community Service, namely: Boys Work, Rural-Urban, Cripples, Civic Work. He continued, "Boy's Work Committee should promote Boy Scout work, playground organization and to promote in general the betterment and advancement of our youth Rural-Urban Committee should sponsor programs and arrange meetings to promote Rural-Urban Acquaintance. Make an effort to create a better understanding of the problems affecting both city and rural sections. Cripple Committee is pledged to support and co-operate with the Hospital at Memphis for cripples sponsored by the Rotary Clubs of Mississippi, Arkansas and Tennessee. Civic Committee handles all matters presented to the club pertaining to civic improvement."

This concluded Rotarian Scharff's explanation of the duties and functions of the committees under the general heading of Community Service.

Rotarian Rene de Montluzin followed with a discussion of the committees under Club Service, which are: Classification, Membership, Fellowship, Information, Program, Attendance. He said, in part "It is the duty of the Classification Committee to check on the classification of members and proposed members. The Membership Committee should co-operate with the Classification Committee and the Board of Directors in this respect. Fellowship Committee is responsible for the promotion of good will among the members of the club and should make a special effort to make all feel WELCOME. Information Committee should make it a point to keep all members well informed of the functions and activities of Rotary. Program Committee must furnish interesting and educational program for the weekly meetings, also should add some special entertainment at times. The Attendance Committee is charged with the responsibility of promoting attendance at meetings—nothing should be overlooked in an effort to increase attendance."

Rotarian de Montluzin's talk concluded the Club Assembly program, which was of much interest to all present.

BENEFIT CARD PARTY
AT MRS. BALDWIN ALLEN'S.

Despite inclemency of the weather Wednesday afternoon, the school book fund benefit party at the home of Mrs. J. Baldwin Allen, (former Wisner place) was fairly well attended and those who braved the rain were amply repaid for the effort. To the successful player of bridge at every table a pack of playing cards was awarded. The entrance prize an angel cake of quality and size, was awarded to Mrs. Mogabab.

The object of this party, sponsored by a committee of ladies, was to raise the amount of $25.00 to defray the cost of school books to be supplied to children unable to buy. As many families had been previously sold by indefatigable workers in the interest of the cause, the sum was realized.

Aside from this financial success the affair was equally successful as one of social interest.
